

First Aid

If you're in the stadium and begin to feel ill, you should find help immediately. The stadium's on-site medical team will be fully prepared to treat you on-site and provide you with personal protective equipment (PPE), if necessary.

If you feel ill at any point before leaving or on your way to the stadium, showing any COVID-19 symptoms or have come in close contact with anyone confirmed to have tested positive for COVID-19, we ask that you please be a good teammate and stay home.

Pod Seating

Game tickets will be distributed in "pods" and Season Ticket Members will have the ability to purchase as many as four seats in the same pod through the online process.

Sections will be separated into 30 groups to limit exposure between fans with each defined area assigned restrooms and concessions.

Signage will be clearly displayed, reinforcing social distancing guidelines and the prohibition of congregating in groups within the concourses or seating bowl. To maintain pod integrity, fans will be required to attend the game with known guests or transfer the allotment as a single unit or to a family member/friend attending the game within the pod.

Proximity to Players and Each Other

The first several rows of seats closest to the field will be closed off to support physical distancing between fans and players. Empower Field at Mile High will also be blocking off seats to support physical distancing among fans. Please stick to your assigned seats.

Cashless Payments and Mobile Ticketing

Empower Field at Mile High will be as touchless as possible from the entry process to restrooms to concessions.

The stadium is now a cashless venue. Payment options through mobile devices (ex: Apple Pay) and traditional scan/chip options for credit/debit cards at all points of sale will be implemented.

Mobile ordering will also be expanded this season.

Aramark debuted several self-service kiosks last season, and recently installed additional point-of-sale touchless concession options throughout the stadium.

Empower Field at Mile High is entirely mobile-friendly and transitioned to mobile ticketing fully ahead of the 2018 season. The stadium is one of the most WiFi connected in all of sports.

Doing our part

Empower Field at Mile High has implemented several health and sanitation practices following guidelines from the state, Centers for Disease Control and Prevention, NFL and health officials. Empower Field at Mile High and the stadium staff will also be playing their part by implementing a few additional safety measures.

Health and Sanitation

In addition to frequent disinfecting and cleaning of high-touch surfaces with EPA-registered products, the stadium has taken the following steps to minimize the spread of COVID-19:

- Transformation of all bathrooms to entirely touchless systems, including toilets, sinks and paper towel dispensers.
- Installation of UV-C lights under escalators in order to reduce or eliminate bacteria on widely used handrails.
- Addition of bipolar ionization in the stadium's HVAC system, which is expected to both lower the risk of disease transfer and eliminate allergens.
- Placement of 500 hand sanitizer stations—both stand-alone and wall-mounted units—for fans to utilize throughout the stadium.

Face Coverings and PPE

All staff working on game days will go through a health screening (questionnaire and temperature check) and be required to wear Personal Protective Equipment (PPE) at all times.

For those staff who work in concessions or handle any “high touch” surfaces, gloves will also be required.

All staff and stadium employees will have their temperature taken before entering the building. Any temperature above 100.4°F will be flagged, and that employee will be sent home.

Fan Health Promise

Here are the things you will need to know to attend a game.

All ticketholders must agree that neither they, nor any of their guests, will attend a game if any one or more of the following is true on game day:

- Within the prior 14 days, they have tested positive for, or been exposed to someone who has tested positive for, COVID-19;
- Within the prior 48 hours, they have experienced symptoms of COVID-19 (e.g., a fever of 100.4°F or higher, cough, shortness of breath or difficulty breathing, chills, repeated shaking, muscle pain/achiness, headache, sore throat, loss of taste or smell, nasal congestion, runny nose, vomiting, diarrhea, fatigue or any other symptoms associated with COVID-19 identified by the CDC);
- Within the prior 14 days, they have travelled to any state or international territory identified by federal or applicable local governments as being subject to travel or quarantine advisories due to COVID-19.

Please note: According to the CDC, older adults and people of any age with serious underlying medical conditions may be at higher risk of death or severe illness from COVID-19. All guests should evaluate their risk in determining whether to attend a game.

To help maintain physical distancing guidelines, ticketholders must also agree that they will not sell, transfer or otherwise provide any of their game tickets to anyone other than family with whom they have been sheltering (or other trusted acquaintances), unless selling, transferring or otherwise providing all such tickets (i.e., the full pod of tickets) to one party.
